Susie — It seems like only yesterday that I entered the school. I met the outstanding staff, your two Hello's, and all your friends.

Joanie Kerins

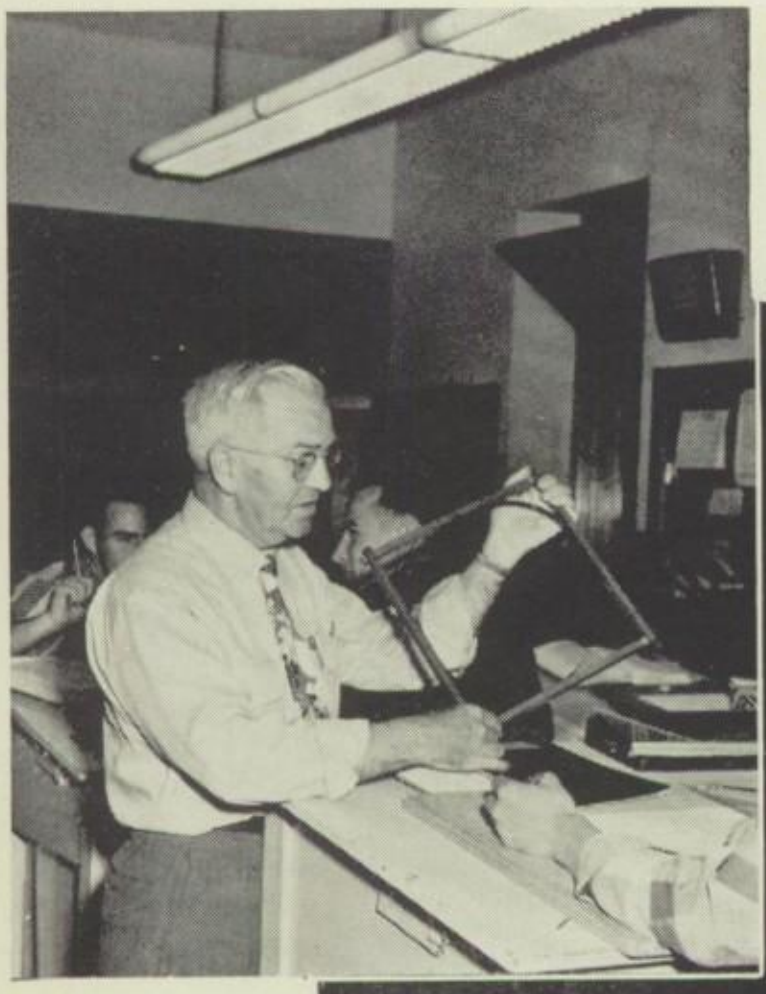
IN OUR HANDS — has been placed an education, an opportunity to select a vocation, a career, a future that we ourselves can mold. In accepting this privilege we must feel its weight of responsibility . . . to preserve for all humanity the blessings of truth, justice, and freedom.

The key to a better world, therefore, is . . .

in our hands

GEORGINA DICK,
Editor

Taking your exit from the world of education, you will be remembered by those who knew and learned from you as a friend and as a teacher. For your twenty-three years of teaching and guiding our eager hands and minds in the fields of mechanical drawing and woodshop, we, the students, in sincere appreciation, dedicate this Galleon of 1952 to you, Mr. Arthur Worden. We hope that this book in the future will bring back many of the happy events which filled your years at Harbor.



Lots of good luck in the future from your friend Arthur Worden

Lost

The remembrance of wearing clothes of the 1920's, being smeared with lipstick, and carrying the soph's books upon command will live in the memory of the class of '52. In its sophomore year, the class again lost the warwhoop, and so were unable to initiate the incoming freshman.

put on

The Junior-Senior Prom, put on in the junior year, revolved around the theme of an "Hawaiian Fantasy." The decorations consisted of hordes of fresh flowers, tropical palm trees and fishnet that covered the walls and ceiling. The music which resounded through the gym was provided by Carroll Wax and his orchestra. Shirley Franklin was elected Queen.

Hands Busy

Bright eyed, dignified Ann Crawford stayed many nights after school to practice for the music programs, in which she always took the lead. (far left)

Sparkling and peppy Lynn Brown was known as a spirited cheer leader, the Galleon advertising editor, and a top G.A.A. participant. (left)

Sandy Denlinger held the spotlight in many plays, administered as Student Body Secretary and was a star thrush in the music department, and our prom Queen.

Musical, studious, and athletic, Tom Henderson's top performances in instrumental music, and also his role as the Senior Class President will be remembered always by his classmates. (lower left)

Busy, exciting, cheerful Donna Price made her mark on the stage and was not too busy to do a fine job as Girls' League President.

in service

With her quick smile and infectious laugh, Eleanor Ragan was an outstanding personality in the music department and also as Girls' League vice-president. (right)

Quiet and friendly, Helen Sands served in many fields — on the yearbook staff, the Student Council and G.A.A. and handled very competently the job of Tri-Sigma treasurer. (far right)

With her vitality and imagination Georgina Dick was not only outstanding in sports, but carried the complete responsibility as the yearbook editor, and will always be remembered for her sweetness and helpfulness to all who know her. (center)

Sparkling and effervescent Frances Kimes contributed to school activities such as Student Council and Honor Society, and she will always be remembered for her warm interest in other people. (far right)

Tanned and athletic Kay Pridham went out for G.A.A. and school clubs. Tops as a swimmer, she is also very interested in English history. (below)

Administration

The invisible hands

IN YOUR HANDS" class of 1952 there has been placed the greatest gift our society can offer.

What do you choose to do with that which lies within your hands? Will you go forth stumbling, afraid of the future, complaining about lack of opportunity? Or will you proceed — proudly aware of the educational gifts that have been granted to you — determined to carve out for yourselves successful, creative patterns of existence in tune with highest spiritual values of man and God?

My best wishes go with you for the years ahead!

guiding our activities

The friendly "May I help you?" of the Dean of Girls has been the greeting to many persons in quest of guidance. MRS. FAY HARBISON has aided students in planning vocations, choosing colleges, and other more personal matters with her knowledge of teenagers' problems. Even with all this, she finds time to sponsor the Girls' League.

The job of co-ordinating the various departments, maintaining order and discipline among the students, and meeting the public, lays in the Vice-Principal's hands. MR. JOSEPH HAMBLET, with his winning smile and sense of humor, combined with his honest judgment, is just the man for this job.

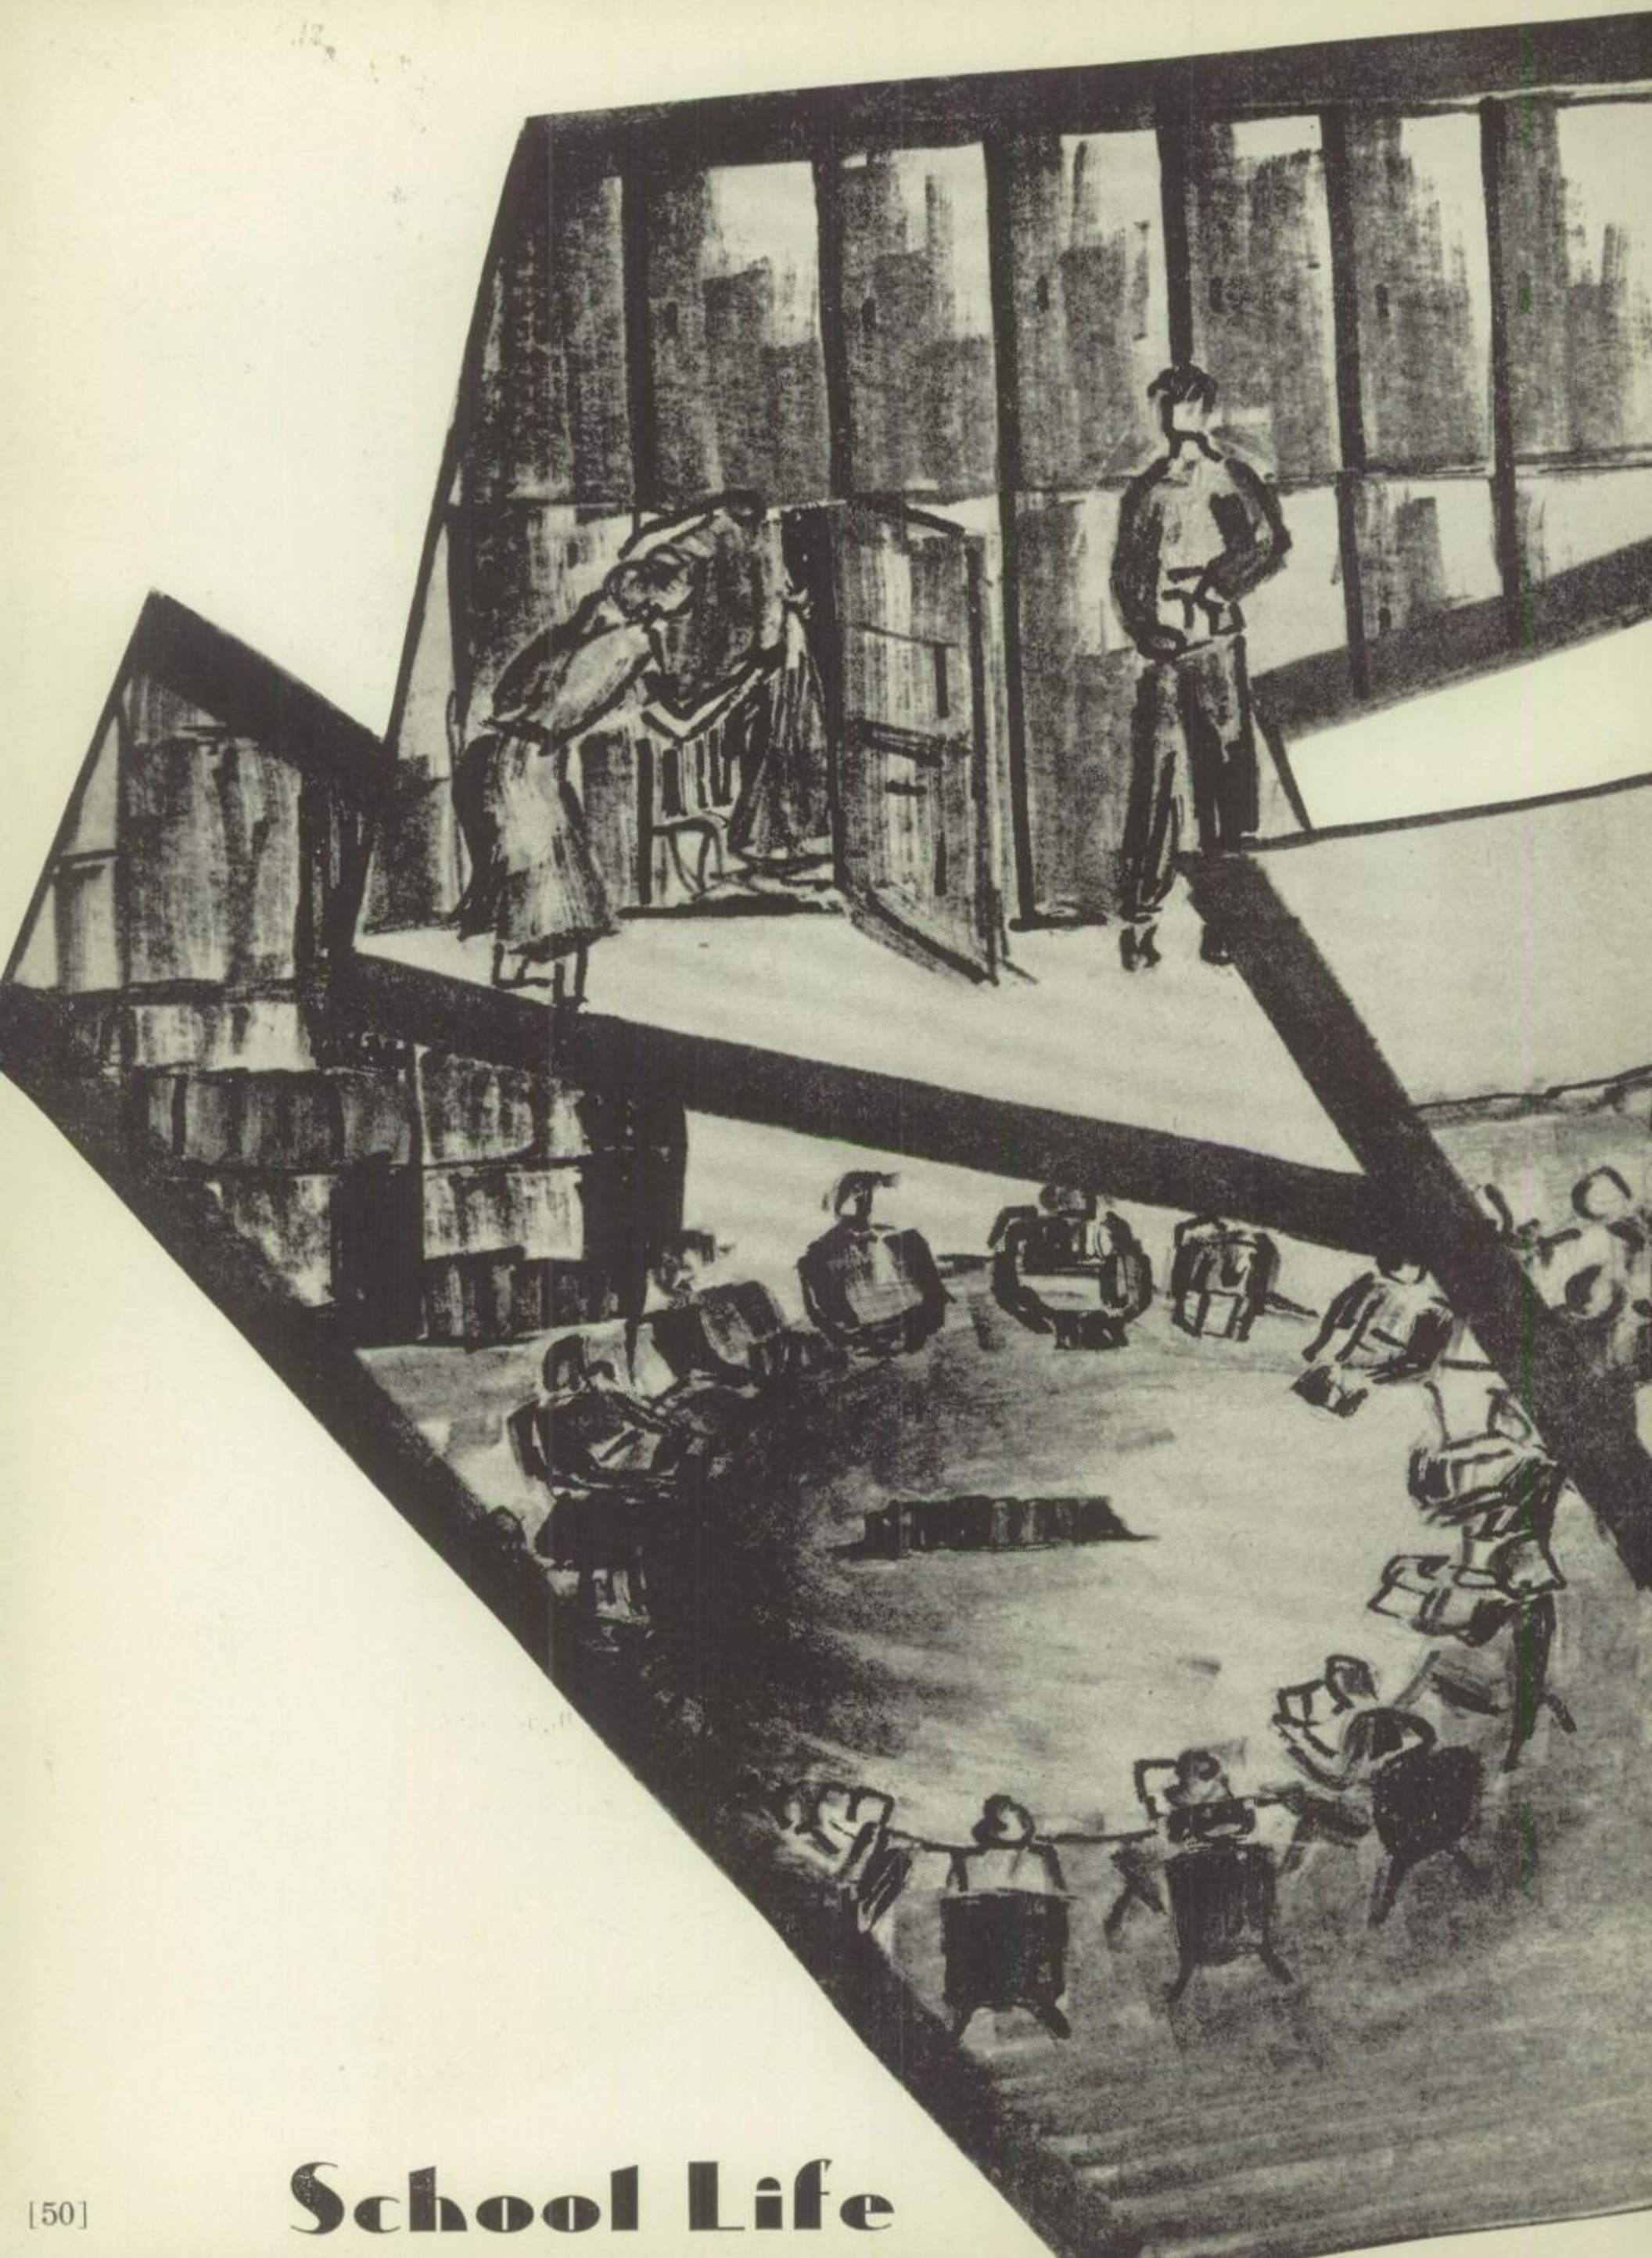
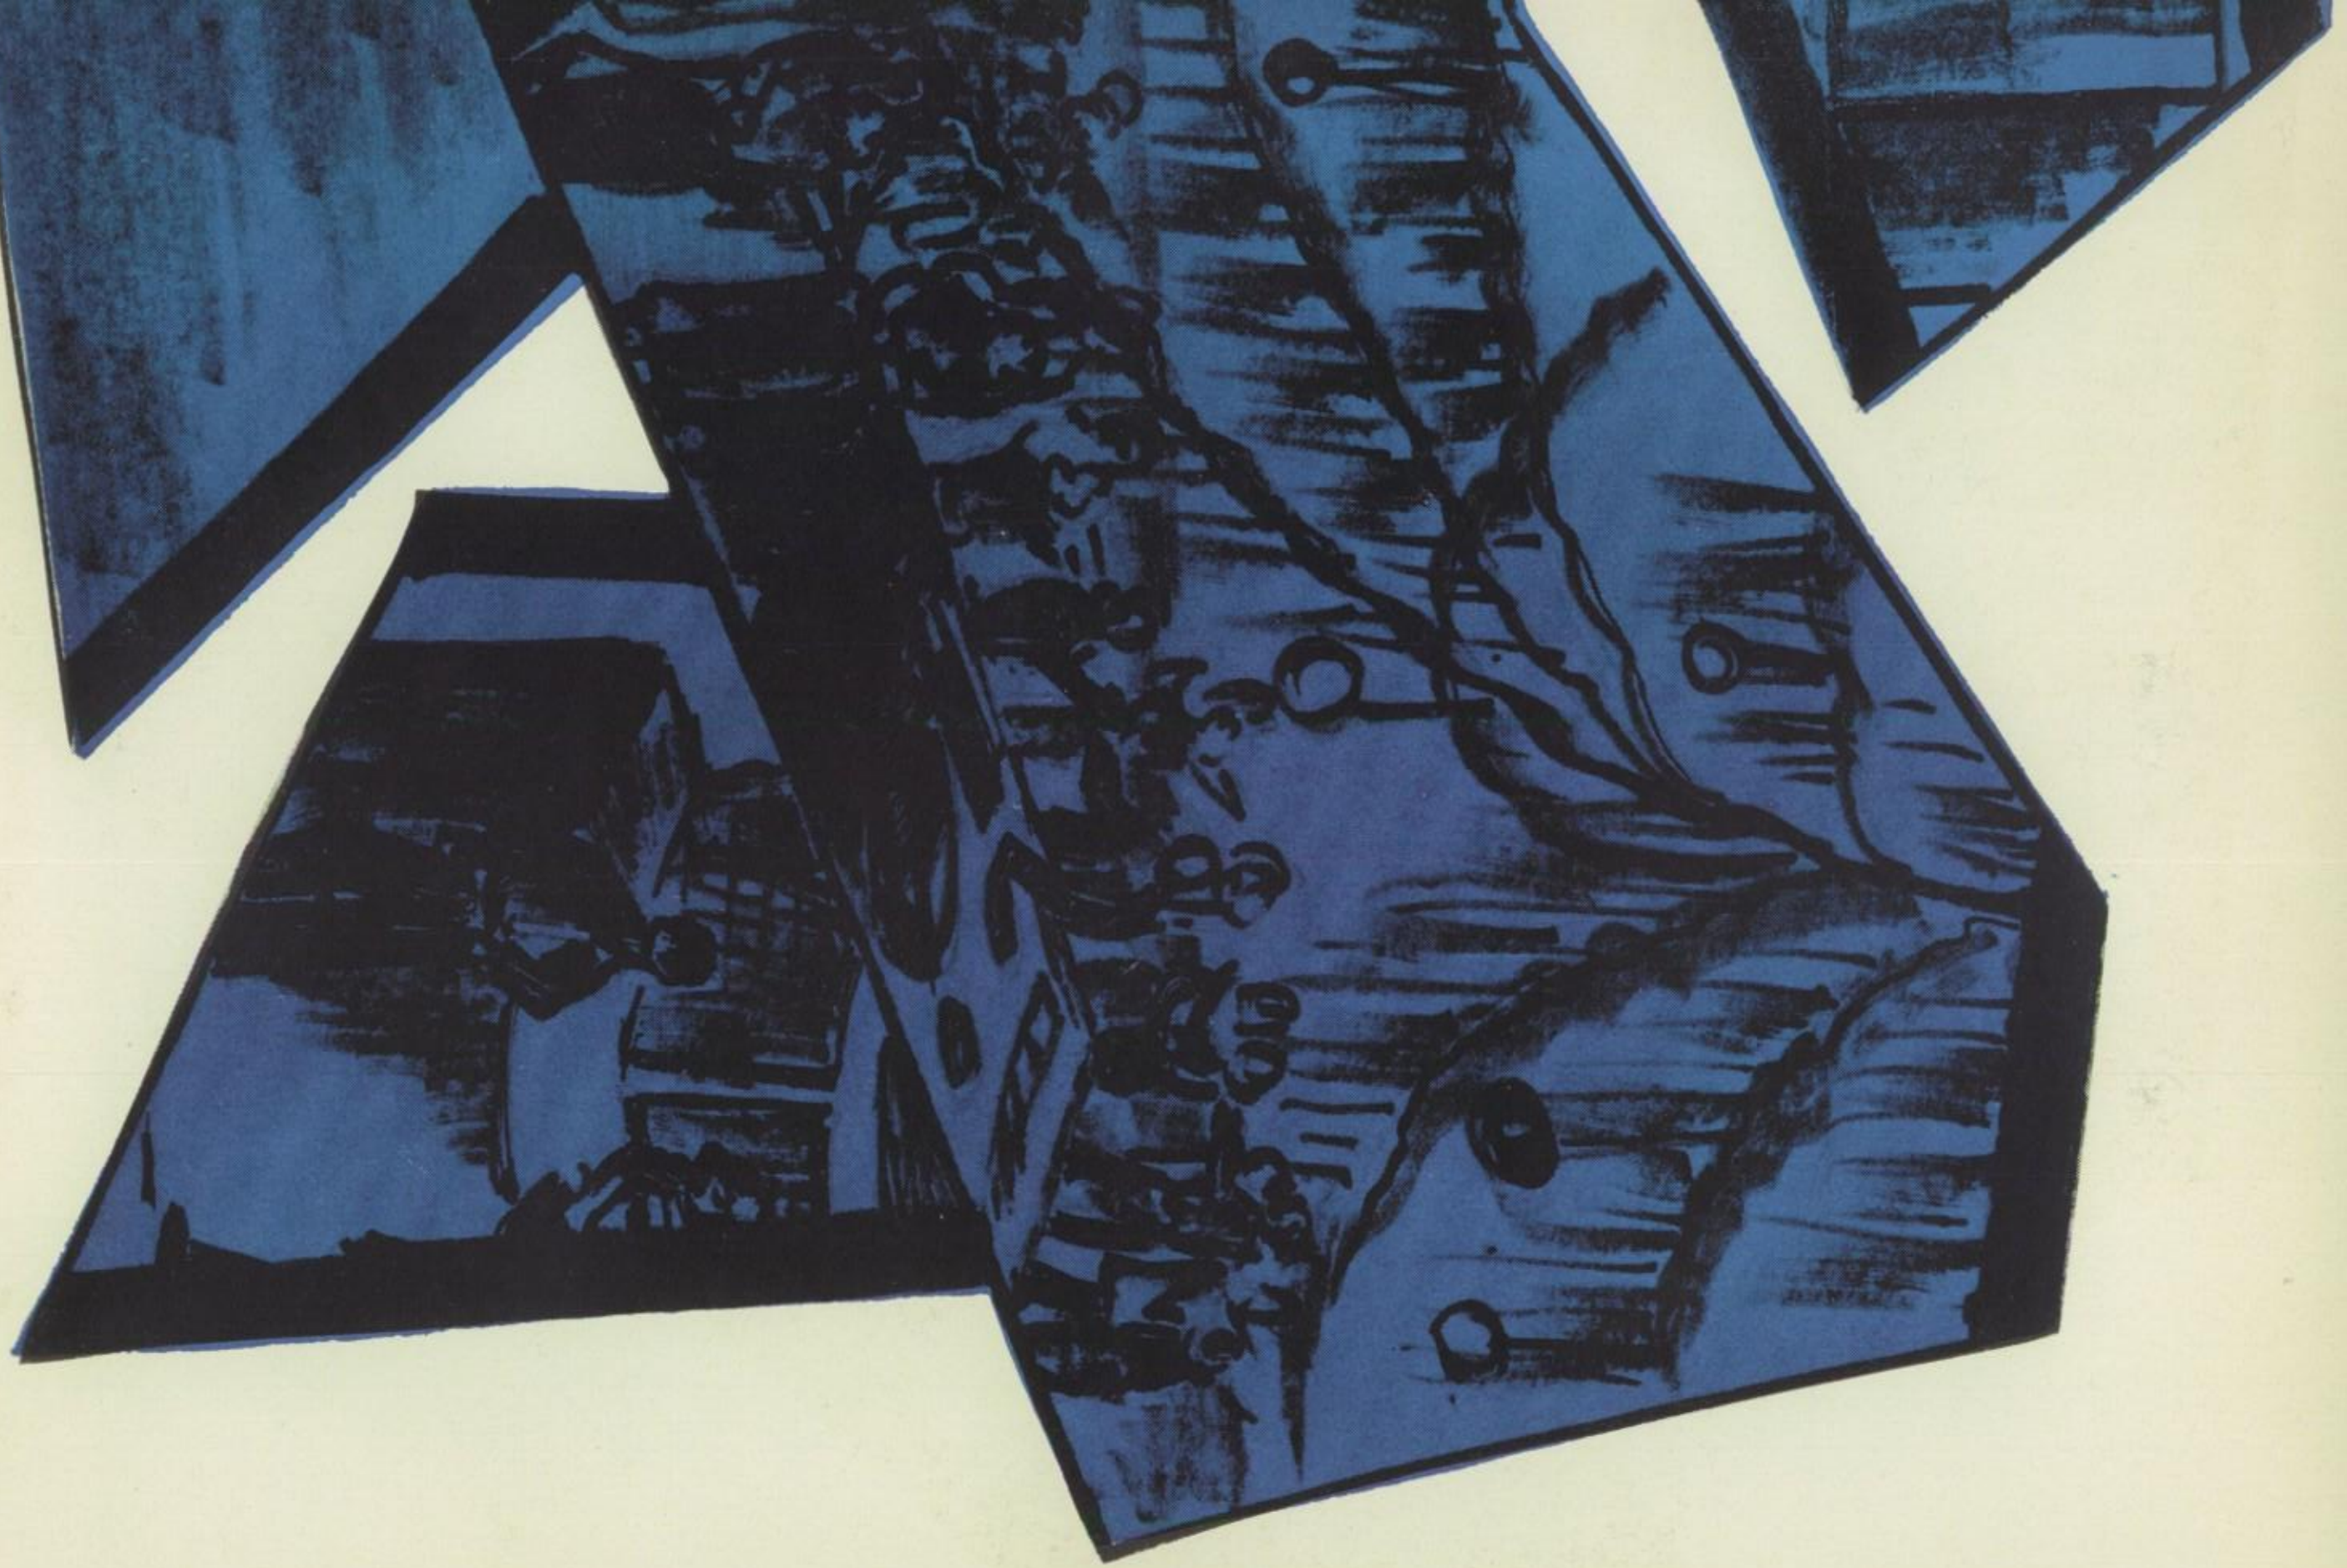
Faculty in Action



School Life



Leading the numerous school activities is the friendly and popular Student - Body President, Bob Eggert. (top)

Head of the Student Court and the Hall Committee is the competent and congenial Student - Body Vice - President, Roxy Aarvold. (bottom)

Working in close harmony are our student body leaders, Roxy Aarvold, Bob Eggert, Sandy Denlinger, and Lou Ann Williamson.

Few men and women have had such an obligation and duty to fulfill as that of our generation. What we do and how we do it will someday influence the fate of civilization. It is our duty, therefore, to obligate ourselves to teach the meaning of brotherhood, peace, and world understanding.

BOB EGGERT,
Student-Body President

Taking the minutes at the student body meetings and Student Court is the charming and capable Sandy Denlinger.

Keeping numbers and records straight for the students is is the able and well - liked Student-Body Treasurer, Lou Ann Williamson.

The Seventh Annual Art Exhibit brought hundreds of visitors from the Western states. Work of nationally famous artists and others, who later became well known, are displayed here each year in competition for purchase awards. The exceptionally high quality exhibit is due to Mrs. Fleming's keen surveillance of the many details, and her careful selection of a balanced, authoritative jury. Right: Mrs. Fleming shown with the jurors, Russell Iredell, Rex Brandt, and Arthur Millier. The purchase prize oil, "The Breadwinner," was awarded to Francis de Erderle.

G. A. A. Cabinet

Outstanding for its social and sports events, the G. A. A. Cabinet has again repeated its yearly successes. High spot of the year was the annual G. A. A. Banquet, where the highest sports honor, the chenille star was awarded to Jeannie Talstra who had earned 106 points, and Betty Davenport with 100 points.
Eight Harbor delegates attended the second annual Orange County G. A. A. Convention at Tustin. Other activities were planning the Eighth Grade Sportsday, presenting an aquacade show, and acting as the hostess school for the second teams' basketball sportsday.

A new addition to the Cabinet's business was the planning of the first G. A. A. parties in order to present awards. These parties came after the basketball and hockey seasons.

Bee's

Harbor's inexperienced Bees, under Coaches Leslie Miller and Vernon Allen, finished the season in last place with no wins and one tie with Laguna. The most exciting and well played game was with Santa Ana and ended 7-0 in the Saint's favor. Tom Perkins was elected Captain and also the Most Valuable Man by his teammates.

Varsity

The 1951-52 football season produced one of the best spirited teams in the school's history. The hard fighting Sailors, with only six returning lettermen, rolled to victory over the highly favored Bonita and Lynwood. The season's end wrote up two wins and six defeats for the Tars, which left them in last place of the Sunset League. The highlight of the year was the Anaheim game, and although the Tars lost 14-6, the exciting game was considered a moral victory for the Tars. Another thrill was in the Santa Ana game when Pulaski passed to halfback Rex Bell for a 63 yard touchdown. Team members bringing honor to the school were Roxie Aarvold, chosen All Sunset League back, first team; Bob Eggert, center, first team; and Tony Pridham, tackle, second team. Honorable mention was awarded to quarterback Rolly Pulaski and halfback Rex Bell. Coach Al Irwin sums up the season in these words, "The teams we beat were as good as the ones we lost to."

Arlene Hayward certainly looks nice in her prize winning suit. That's a prize winning picture, too, by W. A. ZIMMER. In addition to the many yearbook pictures he takes, Zim does beautiful work on wedding pictures and home portraits. His slogan: Yesterday's Pictures—Memories Today. Phone L.B. 9-4057.

What's so interesting, girls? Barbara Lingle and Nancy Deaver are getting a sneak preview of part of the yearbook down at HOYT'S HARBOR ENGRAVING, 413½ 29th St., Newport Beach, Harbor 2417.

"Potato chips, hot dogs, and cold drinks make picnics fun," say Madge Fulbright and Norman Creighton. And what better place could they pick to do their marketing than the BALBOA MARKET, 301 Main, Balboa.

"Mirror, mirror on the wall, who's the fairest of them all?" Why Donna Hamilton, of course. The BALBOA GLASS COMPANY, 1000 Coast Highway, Newport Beach, is a perfect place to make this wish.

A favorite pastime of this group of Harbor High girls is skating at the HARBOR ROLLER RINK, 1726 Superior Ave., Costa Mesa. Why don't you plan a party and drop in, too?

In a rush? You can get through faster, and park closer at the ALPHA BETA MARKET, 17th and Orange, Costa Mesa. Ken Nack says it's really a great place to work.

Les Koivisto and Diane Comer wave "Happy motoring" to the rest of the gang as they drive off in the Chrysler Newport for 1952. HARVEY SOMERS, INC. is your Chrysler-Plymouth sales and service center located at 2491 Coast Highway, Newport Beach. Telephone Beacon 6515.

"This will look nice on our table," says Marilyn Bontekoe to Nadine Matthews, while Mary Stewart has something else in mind at STROOT'S TEWINKLE, your hardware headquarters at 1802 Newport Blvd., Costa Mesa.

"Let's see now," says Arlene Huff, "I wonder how I'd look in this one." BRANDT'S, 601 Coast Highway, Corona del Mar, is one of the finest department stores in the Harbor area and features a wide selection of both men's and women's clothing.

Shirley Russ and John Thomas seem to be having a hard time deciding whether to listen to Johnny Ray's "Cry" or watch TV. A beautiful Philco television and record combination set from DAVIS-BROWN, 1885 Harbor Blvd., Costa Mesa, is the perfect answer for complete home entertainment.

On another of her busy days, Lynn Brown is seen making a purchase at VINCENT'S LIDO DRUGS, 3461 via Lido, Newport Beach. She knows that she can rely on all of the products sold at this popular drug store. By the way, they have a swell record department there, too.

Judging by those broad smiles on Char Six, Bill Hopkins, Sally Newland, and Ray Middaugh, they must have just finished one of those delicious Spanish dinners at LA POSTA, 2588 Newport Blvd., Costa Mesa.

"They're all so pretty I just can't decide." It looks like Sandra Beenfeldt is having a hard time choosing which one she likes the best among all the beautiful fabrics at MOODY INTERIORS, 215 Coast Highway, Corona del Mar.
One of the most popular places of employment for Harbor High boys is RICHARD'S LIDO MARKET, 3433 Via Lido, Newport Beach. Mark McDermott is one of the lucky ones who work there. Now in its fourth year, Richard's has received national acclaim as an outstanding food market.
